LAWSON'S DRY HILLS

— WINES OF MARLBOROUGH —

As New Zealand's most sustainably certified wine company, Lawson's Dry Hills takes pride in its people, honours the land, and prioritises care of the planet. A Certified B Corporation and net carbonzero (ISO 14064), our certified sustainable wines (ISO 14001) are estate-grown, made and bottled.

A relaxed bunch, the small team of 18 take making wine seriously. So much so they do everything themselves, from growing and nurturing the vines, to harvesting the grapes, making the wines and bottling on site in their own winery.

It would seem that the combination of nature, science and art that go into each of their wines is a winning formula as they have received many medals and trophies both locally and overseas. To be honest, they create wines people love to drink and to share, so an award, while lovely, is really an endorsement of what they do. They're not ones to boast – they'd rather roll our sleeves up and get stuck in to making the best wines possible.
